THE NACC LOBBY

• PRE-SHOW

• This year the Northern Arts and Cultural Centre will showcase local performers in the lobby an hour before NACC presentations. During this time patrons will have the ability to sit and socialize while enjoying a beverage and/or a light snack with friends. This is a great way to meet up before a show and take in the ambiance of our beautiful atrium.

MONTHLY ART EXHIBIT

Every month NACC will have an art exhibit in the lobby that will be on display during our presentations. Artwork will be available for purchase, with the majority of the proceeds going to the exhibiting artist.

NACC CANDLE ICE CAFÉ

Our concession will be selling wine, beer, and coffee as well as pop and juice. This season we are also excited to be offering cheese trays with optional sides of charcuterie, chutney, and/or baguette. We will continue to offer baked goods, chips, and chocolate bars.

E-BAY STORE (<http://stores.ebay.ca/naccnt>)

Artwork that has been donated to NACC over the last 29 years is available for purchase on our e-bay store. A selection of the pieces will also be on display in the NACC foyer in the entrance to the theatre at all our shows. All purchases will be considered a donation to NACC in support of the arts, and buyers will be issued a charitable tax receipt.

Tanya Tagaq

Song of the North:

Innovative Vocalist and Inuit Throat Singer Tanya Tagaq Reclaims Silent Classic *Nanook of the North

Tanya Tagaq can capture the most ethereal moments of desire, or find the deepest, huskiest, beating pulse with her voice and breath. She can create a soundscape from inhalation and exhalation, and summon a powerful emotion from the smallest movement of lips, throat, lungs.

Her intense, evocative vocalizations, based on Inuit throat singing traditions, help reclaim the controversial 1922 film Nanook of the North. Tagaq, along with percussionist Jean Martin and violinist Jesse Zubot, performs a live accompaniment to the film's silent images of life in an early 20th-century Inuit community in Northern Quebec.

Working with composer Derek Charke (whose "Tundra Songs" Tagaq performed with the Kronos Quartet), Tagaq employs exquisite improvisations with traditional roots, a style she has perfected over a decade of performances on major stages worldwide, as well as with collaborations with a range of artists from Björk (Tagaq joined her on the Medúlla tour) to Mike Patton (who contributed to Tagaq's 2009 Juno-nominated album Auk/Blood).

The Penderecki String Quartet premiered over 100 new works from composers in Canada and abroad. They also won the 2010 JUNO Award for Best Composition.

Penderecki String Quartet

“The Penderecki String Quartet has become one of the most celebrated chamber ensembles of their generation. The Quartet’s performing schedule takes them annually to concert stages across the Americas, Europe, and Asia. The four Penderecki musicians (now originating from Poland, Canada, and USA) bring their varied yet collective experience to create performances that demonstrate their remarkable range of technical excellence and emotional sweep.” (The Globe and Mail)

Recent concert appearances include New York City’s Weill Hall at Carnegie Hall, Los Angeles’ REDCAT at Disney Hall, and Amsterdam’s Concertgebouw. The PSQ appears extensively in Canada, participating in this country’s foremost concert series such as the Ottawa Chamber Music Festival, Festival of the Sound, the Banff Centre, and Toronto Luminato Festival.

In Celebration of Composer John Dowland

John Dowland (1563 – 1626) was an English Renaissance composer, singer, and lutenist. Since the 20th century's Early Music Revival, he has been a continuing source of repertoire for lutenists and classical guitarists.

Nigel North enjoys accompanying singers, and is also an enthusiastic teacher. Following many years of committed teaching in Europe (in London, Berlin and Den Haag) Nigel has since 1999 been Professor of Lute in the "Early Music Institute" at Indiana University, Bloomington, USA from where he continues his varied life as performer and teacher.

nigelnorth.com

Les Voix Humaines musical complicity has been compared to the skill of two trapeze artists or the telepathic communion of a pair of jazz saxophonists! Susie Napper and Margaret Little, the two gambists of Les Voix humaines, have been thrilling audiences worldwide with dashing performances of early and contemporary music for viols since 1985. They are renowned for their spectacular arrangements of a wide variety of music for two viols and have become a world reference for the music of Sainte-Colombe. They received the Opus Award 2007 for PERFORMERS OF THE YEAR from the Conseil québécois de la musique. lesvoixhumaines.org

“...a welcome breath of fresh air... Parry makes something beautiful out of taking life into your own hands...”
(The Globe & Mail)

Inspired in part by the incredible true tale of Annie Londonderry - the first woman to ride around the world on a bicycle in 1894 - Parry spins a web of stories which travel from 19th century women’s emancipation to 21st century consumer culture, peeling back layers of history to ultimately reveal a profoundly contemporary and personal heart to her performance.

Harry Manx

“Watching Harry play tonight I feel like I learned something new” – Bruce Springsteen

Harry Manx has spent years fusing eastern musical traditions with the blues, switching effortlessly between conventional guitars, harmonica, and banjo, and the decidedly different Mohan veena, a 20-stringed instrument invented by Manx’ Indian mentor Vishwa Mohan Bhatt. Manx is often referred to as the “Mysticssippi” Blues Man because of his expertise in melding both East and West music together, and therefore creating musical short stories that wed the Blues with the depth of classical Indian ragas.

Over the last 10 years, Harry Manx released 11 albums, and has garnered a room full of awards including, seven Maple Blues Awards, six Juno nominations, the Canadian Folk Award in 2005 for Best Solo Artist, and won CBC Radio’s Great Canadian Blues Award in 2007. His most recent accomplishment was receiving yet another Juno Nomination for Blues Album of the Year for his 2010 release “Bread and Buddha.”

Night

Written and Directed by Christopher Morris

*January 21st & 22nd, 7:30pm
Yellowknife*

"The performances are first-rate, with Ayalik's [character] shifting from a glowing optimist to a fearful teen whose nightmares encroach on her waking life. Arluk's shy, haunted Gloria, whose sad, ravaged life we can read in her expression, is equally strong. (Now Magazine)

Premiered at the National Arts Centre in 2010 and was the capital theatre's first co-production with arts organizations in the North. It has since toured to Iqaluit and Pond Inlet

Night

“Set during one 24-hour period without the sun, Christopher Morris’ Night is an emotionally powerful play that skips over the Northern clichés to cast a frost-covered but unblinking eye on the problems currently faced by the Inuit inhabitants of Canada’s newest territory.”

(The Globe and Mail)

“Then, there’s the ethereal beauty of the Arctic captured by designer Gillian Gallow in her simple, haunting set – an icecovered telephone pole, its wires strung out over the audience, bringing messages from the North to our Toronto ears.” (The Globe and Mail)

Daniella, a Toronto anthropologist, travels to Pond Inlet to repatriate the bones of an Inuk man. She encounters Piuyuq, a woman living in Pond Inlet, and her best friend, Gloria. Their lives briefly intersect as Daniella tries to figure out why she has brought the bones this far, and Piuyuq struggles to deal with her best friend’s suicide. The play takes place over 24 hours of winter darkness. Night is the story of the North and the South, cultures clashing and generation gaps. The play is presented in Inuktitut and English, with appropriate subtitles.

Touring festival of outdoor and mountaineering films, enticing filmmakers and outdoor enthusiasts from around the globe, visiting more than 30 communities and attracting over 20,000 people across Canada!

Vancouver International Mountain Film Festival

The Vancouver International Mountain Film Festival Society (VIMFF) incorporated and organized its 1st Annual Festival in 1998. The Festival was initiated with the objective to bring to North Vancouver unique outdoor and mountaineering films that would otherwise not be seen in the city, and to bring together communities of filmmakers and outdoor enthusiasts in a forum where they can discuss topics of mutual interest.

Since 1998, VIMFF has evolved from a three-day event at one venue with an audience of 1,700 to a 9-day event in 3 to 4 venues with live presentations, films, photography, live music, and international film and photo competitions. Additionally, VIMFF now travels to about 30 communities with the Best of the Fest Tour, and runs additional shows at the Fall Speaker Series in North Vancouver. The combined Festival events now attract more than 20,000 viewers each year.

VIMFF's current role is to 1) inspire and entertain the community with the use of unique films and presentations that illustrate experiences and cultures from all corners of the globe, 2) bring international and local filmmakers and photographers together with international competitions, 3) promote positive life values and an active lifestyle, and 4) bring various communities together.

Boo!

Sursaut Dance Company

May 30th, 7:00pm

Yellowknife

"Boo! rekindles the urge to pirouette, to mime, and to play at puppets with ones feet ... We return to the very roots of childhood play. Quite an achievement."
(La Tribune, Sherbrooke)

Boo! Sursaut Dance Company

Vivacity, sensitivity and ingenuity in worlds where the poetry of the body is at the fore. A rendez-vous with the unexpected that will leave you smiling.

Boo! proposes eleven distinct choreographies. Each piece offers a distinct and renewed movement style. For any given venue, the artistic director composes a program of 4 to 5 choreographies (55-60 minutes), looking to create a progression in the succession of the works, as well as to establish a rhythm and flow that allows the audience to move easily from one universe to another. This concept offers young audiences a variety of choreographic proposals, and exposes them to a range of contemporary dance in the same program. This à la carte formula also allows for keeping in mind the target audience and/or the technical conditions of the theatre where the production will be presented when choosing the program. Sursaut's joyful and touching creations thrill spectators young and old alike, everywhere they are presented.
